CLEVELAND, OHIO – January 23, 2008 – CRG Solutions, Inc., a nationwide healthcare consulting organization, has expanded its executive staff with the addition of Janice Manno Simmons as Marketing Coordinator.

In her new role, Ms. Simmons will develop and coordinate all public relations and marketing for the firm and its related companies. She will oversee the expansion of the company's branding and manage its web presence.

“Throughout our company’s history, our only form of promotion has been through word of mouth referrals from satisfied clients. Because of this loyal support, the demand for information on our Supply Chain and highly effective Competitive Capital Sourcing processes has grown to the point that we now require a dedicated professional to manage our communications.” stated Darren Vianueva, President.

Ms. Simmons was recruited from her own creative publications company. She has a Bachelor of Arts degree in Communications from Baldwin-Wallace College and a Master of Education degree from Kent State University.

CRG Solutions, Inc. focuses on assisting healthcare organizations in the areas of capital planning, capital sourcing, supply chain management and redesign, and technology management. Its unique Competitive Capital Sourcing process is proven to drive economics down while improving the value equation for healthcare organizations of all sizes. Based out of Chagrin Falls, Ohio, CRG Solutions serves clients nationwide and in Latin America. For more information, please visit us at www.crgsolutions.com.
